

Bullet Fired Into Crowded School Room

Youth Held After Incident Friday At Appleton High

A 17-year-old Appleton youth this morning was being held in juvenile quarters at Outagamie County jail after he reportedly fired a .22 caliber automatic pistol bullet Friday into a classroom filled with students at Appleton High School.

Appleton detectives were called to the school at 1:05 p.m. Friday by school officials. The incident occurred, police said, about 12:15 p.m.

Police said the youth told them he was sitting in a car with four other youths when he fired the pistol.

The bullet broke a small window pane in a second-floor classroom on the school's north-west wing. An English class was being conducted at the time.

Ricocheted Off Wall

Police said the bullet entered the window about six feet above floor level and hit a wall on the opposite side of the room. It ricocheted from the plaster wall and fell to the floor, police said.

Although glass was scattered around the room, authorities said no one was injured.

The youth reportedly was sitting in the back seat of a car parked on W. Winnebago Street when the shooting took place.

He told police he thought he was aiming the weapon at the ground.

Other students at the school told detectives they heard another shot fired near the building late Friday morning.

Ogdensburg Man Dies in Burning Shack

OGDENSBURG — A man believed to be in his 80s was born and raised in the same 12 by 24-foot shack two miles west of here. Friday night he died in the same shack.

Henry Knutson, route 1, who had no relatives in the area, was found dead from burns suffered sometime after 9 p.m., Friday when his shack caught fire and burned to the ground. Manawa Fire Department rescuers attempted to reach the scene of the blaze but were unable to get past the snow-covered, mile-long road leading to the shack.

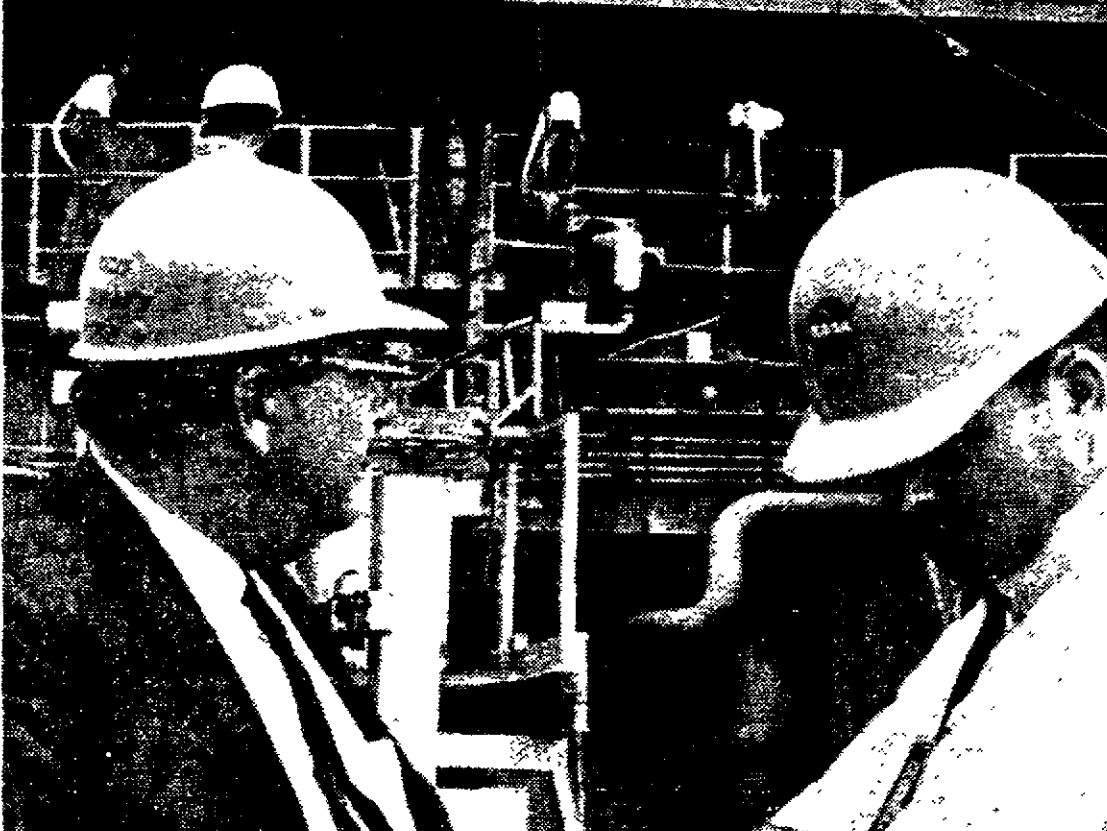

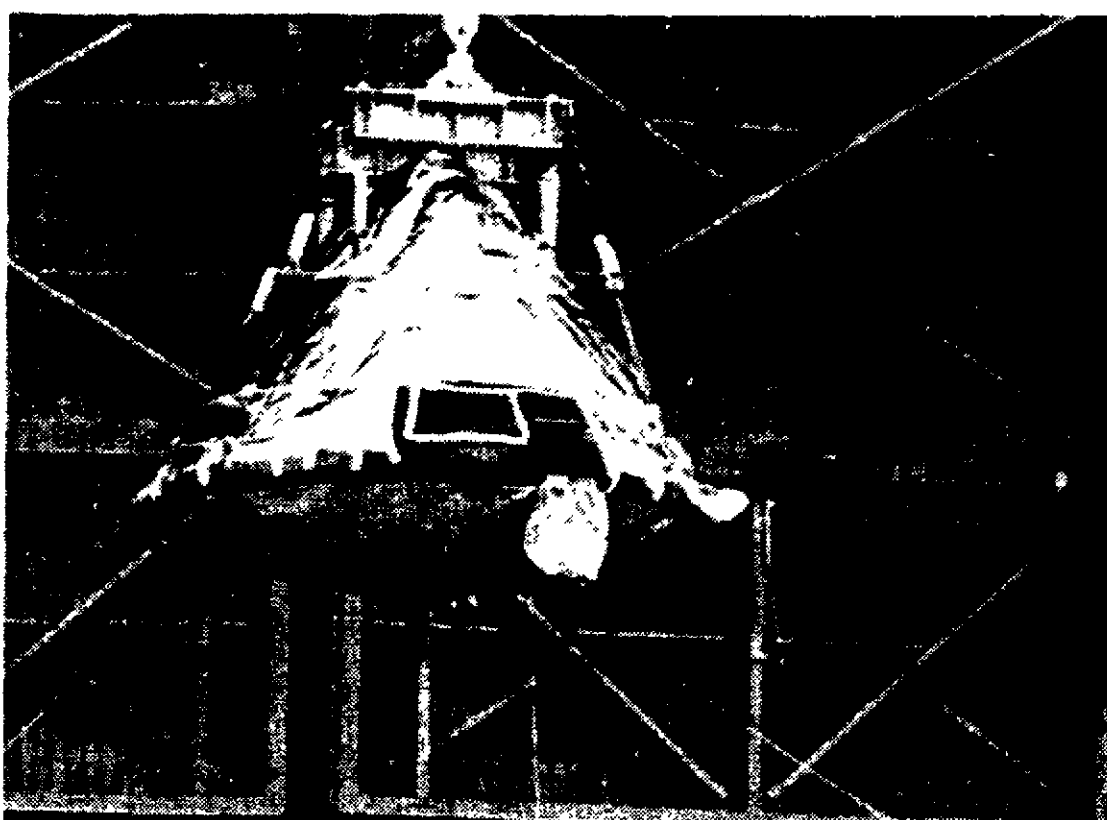

By the time they reached the scene with a snowmobile and toboggan, Knutson was dead, lying about 15 feet from the smoldering ruins of the shack.

The nearest known relative is believed to be a Milwaukee woman. The body was taken to the Vye Funeral Home.

Kosygin, Thompson Meet in Kremlin

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Alexei N. Kosygin met in the Kremlin today with U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson to discuss a personal appeal from President Johnson for a slowdown in the arms race.

Vietnam was also believed to have been discussed at the first formal meeting of Kosygin with the new ambassador.

New Jersey Chemical Plant

Blast Takes at Least Four Lives

HAWTHORNE, N.J. (AP) — "Don't leave me! Please don't leave me!" pleaded Sandy Kanter, a pretty 19-year-old laboratory worker pinned in the debris from a series of explosions that ripped a chemical plant.

Two workmen, despite the possibility of another explosion at any moment, freed the girl in the aftermath of the blast Friday that left at least four men known dead and seven others missing and presumed by authorities to be buried in the ruins.

Eighteen persons were injured, two seriously. Sifting through the rubble under floodlights and knocking down foot-long icicles that had formed during the day, nearly 300 volunteer firemen searched through the night for the missing men.

Workers Flee

George Decker, 43, one of the workmen who helped free Miss Kanter, was at work some distance from the apparent center of the explosions in the block-square complex of the Morningstar Paisley Division of the International Latex Corp.

Decker made his way through the dust and rubble to the exit, where he saw other workers fleeing one of the three red brick, four-story buildings. Some were crying out in terror, some bleeding, some holding handkerchiefs to their faces.

Decker was told that someone was trapped on the third floor. He raced back into the flaming building with several other workers and policemen.

He found Miss Kanter pinned by a cabinet and a pile of bricks that had fallen on her leg. Flames were shooting up the side of the building as if from a furnace fire. The flames were only four feet above the girl's head.

'Don't Worry'

"Don't leave me! Please don't leave me!" she pleaded. "Don't worry, honey, we won't leave you," Decker assured her.

He told a coworker, Orlando Gomez, 32, to get a bar. "He brought back two iron bars," said Decker. "We tried to pry her out but couldn't. Then Gomez lifted the cabinet and pulled her out."

"Then Gomez, who works with me, helped me take her out. There was so much smoke and we were coughing and she was saying, 'Which way can we go?' but we managed to find our way out."

"She wouldn't let us carry her. She insisted on walking out of there, although I don't know how she did it. We went down a back staircase as fast as we could."

Decker said he knew there were some drums in the yard that could explode at any minute but, "I just tried not to think about it."

The blast disrupted electric power in the area and rocked this community of 18,000, which is 15 miles east of New York city.

Flames shot as high as 100 feet from the blazing plant as the fire raged for hours after the first explosion shortly before noon.

The cause of the explosions was not immediately known.

Unofficial estimates were that damage costs would be several million dollars.

Students Duped into Supporting CIA

WASHINGTON (AP) — With money, draft deferments and the threat of jail the Central Intelligence Agency laid "an ethical trap for young men of great integrity," say leaders of the National Student Association.

To the CIA it was a valuable weapon in the back alley struggle of international espionage. To the students involved it became an agony and a horror.

In the end, the moral strain on the students became too great and it shattered the 15-year secret relationship between the government spy agency and the nation's largest student organization.

Talk of Crisis

That was the story told Friday night by leaders of the NSA as they emerged from three days and nights of nearly continuous discussion of the crisis that disclosure of the relationship had created for them. But they plan to continue the student organization.

Much of what they said already had come out in the days since Ramparts magazine spotlighted the undercover link early this week.

In a statement read by Samuel Brown, chairman of the 10-member supervisory board of the NSA, NSA leaders said they received between $1 million and $2 million in hidden CIA funds through 21 foundations and individuals.

The money went into NSA's overseas activities, seminars for foreign students and operating expenses, including rent on the four-story Washington headquarters of the organization. In some years CIA money made up 80 per cent of NSA's budget, Brown said.

He said the CIA also helped "negotiate" draft deferments for top NSA officials. An NSA spokesman earlier had denied there were any strings pulled to get draft deferments, but it turned out he was talking only of the present officials.

For its part, the CIA got strong U.S. student representation at world student conferences, information about politics and student activities in foreign lands and a line on their rising young leaders.

The information brought back by NSA overseas representatives was given to CIA agents in informal meetings in restaurants or on the street, Brown said.

What came out with fresh impact Friday night was the reaction of the present NSA leaders to the CIA's penetration of their organization when they learned of it for the first time a few weeks ago.

Recruited Spies

Brown, a 23-year-old divinity student at Harvard, expressed it when he was asked how the CIA recruited students to spy for it.

The selected individual was given a security check by the CIA without his knowledge, Brown said, and if he passed, was called in for a discussion with NSA leaders. Usually only one or two top leaders were aware of the CIA's role.

"He was told there were certain things about the NSA that he was not aware of," said Brown, "and that it would be helpful to him in his job to have certain information that was available only from classified sources."

"So he was told he would have to sign a security oath, and at that point, after he had signed, he was told about the CIA in-

Vatican Urged To Reconsider Celibacy Rule

Latest 'Defection' Is English Priest To Wed American

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pressure was said today to be increasing inside the Vatican for a major review of Roman Catholicism's clerical celibacy rule, as more priests abandon their vows for marriage.

"It can hardly be avoided," said one expert here who foresaw such a study in commenting on the latest case from England — the decision Friday by a 27-year-old missionary, the Rev. Arnold McMahon, to take a wife.

Some sources cautioned, however, that any Vatican-ordered review was likely to change only the way young seminarians are introduced to the prospect of lifetime celibacy and not bring about a relaxation of the church's celibate tradition.

They said celibacy was rapidly matching birth control as the toughest problem throughout the church in need of an answer.

More Involved

Far more is involved in the Vatican's increasing concern over "defecting priests," it was explained, than the recent English cases.

Father McMahon, a member of the Divine Word religious order who was disciplined three years ago for publicly favoring contraception for married Catholics, said in London that he was marrying an American Catholic girl.

McMahon said he wanted to find a way to remain in the Inflated Stewardess

Depressurize or Bust

LOS ANGELES (AP) — What happens to a stewardess wearing an inflatable bra when the cabin of her jet plane is depressurized?

Just what you're thinking, Herman. Inflation.

Los Angeles Times columnist Matt Weinstock related Friday these potentially explosive circumstances on a recent Los Angeles-bound flight. He withheld the identity of the girl and airline.

"When she had, ahem, expanded to about size 44,"

Weinstock wrote, "she frantically sought a solution. She found a woman passenger who had a small hatpin and stabbed herself strategically."

"However, another passenger, a man of foreign descent, misunderstood. He thought she was trying to commit hara-kiri. He grappled with her, trying to prevent her from punching the hatpin in her chest."

"Order was quickly restored, but laughter still is echoing along the airlines."

More Than 1,000 Communists Killed

Allied Troops Engage Reds On Several Vietnam Fronts

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Australian troops bypassed an enemy ambush and killed 70 Viet Cong in a six-hour battle Friday, spokesman for the 1st Australian Task Force announced today.

It was the fourth straight day allied units — South Vietnamese, Koreans, Americans and Australians — have clashed with guerrillas or North Vietnamese regulars. They have claimed an over-all enemy death toll exceeding 1,000.

This week's battles raged from the Mekong Delta to northern Quang Ngai Province and although the action tapered off today, allied troops continued hunting for their fleeing adversaries.

There was no pattern to the week's outbreak of major fighting, the heaviest so far this year. Several battles were initiated by Communists trying to overrun allied positions or blockading posts — the others started when probing allied units found the enemy and hemmed them in.

Sweep Through Swamps

The Australians swept through the coastal swamps 47 miles southeast of Saigon today and said they had killed 70 men of the Viet Cong's veteran D445 Mobile Battalion.

The action capped these major fights that started Tuesday: South Vietnamese rangers and infantrymen killed 331 guerrillas in two days of fighting in the delta southwest of Can Tho. Korean marines killed 243 North Vietnamese regulars in a three-hour battle Wednesday near Quang Ngai City on the central coast.

A blocking force of South Vietnamese armored personnel carriers and rangers killed 161 fleeing Communists the next day.

Have Fun With the Sliding Ball Game

BY CAPPY DICK

Today's fun-project is a game to play outdoors. It requires the use of a clothesline to be fastened between a couple of fence posts.

The ball used in the game must slide along the clothesline as it is struck by the players, each trying to force it to his opponent's goal.

Thread the clothesline through the tube and tie it to the fence posts. The line should be stretched tightly to eliminate as much slack as possible.

For bats, the players may use sticks or table tennis rackets. Place the ball at the center of the clothesline. At a signal the players begin whacking it with their bats, trying to cause the ball to slide toward one goal or the other.

When the ball touches a goal, an inning has been ended. Play five innings. The player who has made the most goals wins the game.

MONDAY: Lots more good fun for every boy and girl!

Bill Would Enlarge Building Commission

Proposal Doubles Legislative Membership; Outgrowth of Northeast UW Campus Fight

MADISON — A bill doubling legislative membership on the powerful state building commission was recommended by the Senate government and veterans affairs committee this week by a vote of 4-1.

Only member of the committee to oppose the amended bill was Sen. William Draheim, R-Neenah. The bill would add four majority party members and two from the minority party to the board which oversees all major state building programs.

Draheim based his position on what he termed "the selfish motives on the part of certain legislators." He obviously was referring to the hard-fought battle last month over membership on the state agency.

The battle was for domination of the commission by forces contending the size and development plans of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

The compromise package, which grew out of that battle, includes raising the number of legislators on the commission from six to 12. The governor

Appleton Firm Asks $58,000 For Park Site

Eight Acre Proposal Located on City's Far Southeast Side

Charter Land Corp., an Appleton firm, wants to sell the city eight acres of undeveloped property in the 13th Ward for park purposes at a cost of $58,000.

Milton J. Fischer, corporation president, made the offer this week in a letter to Mayor George Buckley and the council.

Fischer said the city could realize savings of $15,384 by not having to put in street improvements in the subdivision, thus making the actual cost $42,616.

The section is directly west of Kensington Drive and adjacent to a proposed elementary school site in Colony Oaks subdivision on the city's far southeast side.

Fischer contended Kensington Drive to Crestview Drive to Edgemere Drive could be vacated, providing more useable area for a park.

U. S. Bureau To Sample In Appleton

A selected sampling of households in the Appleton area will be asked questions about their 1966 employment as part of the February current population survey conducted by the U.S. Department of Commerce's Bureau of the Census, according to Guy A. Lutz, director of the bureau's regional office in St. Paul.

The survey will supplement questions on employment and unemployment asked each month by bureau enumerators for the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The annual survey will be aimed at determining the number of weeks worked during the year, the amount of time lost because of unemployment and other reasons, and the principal job held during the year by each person in sample households.

All information received will be kept confidential and used only for statistical purposes, Lutz said.

Census interviewers in this area are Adele M. Callahan, 753 W. Third St., and Mahinda Jones, 207 N. Drew St.

Appleton Man Fined $25 on Check Charges

Two charges of issuing worthless checks brought a fine of $25 and costs Friday morning for Donald W. Beyer, 31, 2112 S. Kernan Ave.

Beyer, who appeared in Outagamie County Court Branch 2, was charged in a complaint brought by John C. Jacobs, president of Jacobs Food Market, 544 N. Lawe St., who said the Appleton man issued a worthless $11.02 check at his place Aug. 25 and one for $15 Aug. 27.

Beyer was ordered to make restitution on the two checks and on seven others, for which he was not charged. The nine worthless checks totaled $96.02, the court was told.

Construction At Slow Pace In Appleton

City Officials Puzzled by Little Building Interest

New construction moved slowly in Appleton during January, causing city officials to become concerned over the lack of building interest.

Permits for an estimated $195,934 worth of construction were issued last month by Building Inspector Richard Atkins — down considerably from previous years.

In January, 1966, construction totaled $320,175; 1965, $297,140; and 1964, $584,813.

"We just can't understand it," commented Charles Magnette, director of inspections. "There seems to be plenty of building activity throughout the area but here it is real quiet."

At Standstill

Official department records show that during 1966 the total number of building permits issued added up to $13 million in new construction. However, one permit for $1 million was never issued, cutting the figure to $12 million.

The only major recent commercial and industrial construction permit was for an expansion project at Appleton Coated Paper Co.

The only main construction during the latter part of 1966 in Appleton was new service stations. However, recently the council declined to rezone property in two instances to permit construction of additional stations.

An estimated $22,000 worth of service stations was added to the tax roll here in 1966.

Only One House

When it comes to home construction, Appleton is falling far behind the trend with only one housing start in January, with a value tag of $18,000.

The month before (December) only one permit issued for a new residence, the cost estimated at $25,000.

"Although it is winter, having only two permits for homes taken out over a two-month period is alarmingly unusual," Magnette said.

Caught in Middle

He and Atkins arrived at the conclusion on the basis of a U.S. Commerce report Thursday that housing starts rose vigorously for the third consecutive month. In fact, January starts were reported 14.6 percent ahead of the December pace.

The Commerce Department report would substantiate claims at the southern end of the Fox Valley that new home building is moving at a brisk pace in Oshkosh and especially Fond du Lac.

Southern End

At Fond du Lac where there has been a considerable amount of industrial expansion, bring new employees and their families into the community, there is a scarcity of sale and new homes.

While Appleton had one of its highest new construction totals of the decade in 1966, a good share of the building was of the non-taxable type and will not appear on the tax roll.

City Assessor John Pierre has hinted the city's assessed valuation increase next year is expected to be down compared to other recent years.

Some Tax Base

"If anything, we will be losing some tax base when a local industry builds a new plant out in the county," Pierre said recently.

Extension Sets Class for High School Math Review

High school mathematics review is the focal point of a new class which begins next Thursday at the University of Wisconsin-Fox Valley Center.

The program, the first of its kind in the Valley, is designed to help those who are presently working get better jobs in a field which has a large demand, and a small number of trained persons from which to draw.

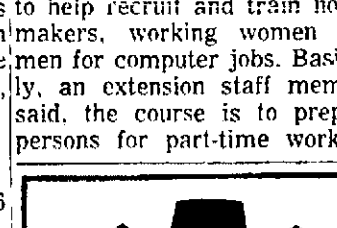

Called "Fundamentals of Mathematics," the class will meet from 7:30-9:30 p.m. Thursdays through May 11 in Center room 47 northeast.

Mrs. Arlene Granberg, Einstein Junior High math teacher, will be instructor for the course.

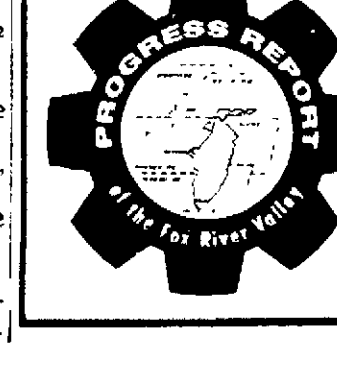

Only requirement for the course is two years of high school mathematics. Most of the time will be spent in reviewing fundamentals of arithmetic, algebra and geometry.

Fee is $25 and registrants may decide at the first session whether they wish to enroll in the full course.

Further information is available through the office at Fox Valley Center.

Calumet to Test Nonconforming Club Operation

Brillion Conservation Group Asks Rezoning Of Club Grounds

BRILLION — A court action to test the legality of the Brillion Conservation Club operating a commercial business in an area of the Town of Rantoul zoned for agriculture will be tried before a jury at 10 a.m. Friday at Chilton.

Judge Harold Mueller of Manitowoc will hear the case.

The charge, instigated by Calumet County, stemmed from complaints received a year ago from persons protesting the noise of the trap shooting range. The late Roland Miller, then chief zoning administrator and county clerk, filed the resulting formal complaint.

Attorney William Hertel entered a plea of innocent on behalf of the club members at an April 19 hearing.

Spot Rezoning
A club petition to have 20 acres of its 86-acre clubgrounds rezoned from agricultural to commercial was denied last year. Zoning commission members said they recommended denial because they do not approve of "spot rezoning."

The Conservation Club petitioned the county board in November for the zoning change. This time they asked for 65 acres to be rezoned, and were optimistic that the change would be okayed. A 20-acre portion on the western extremity of the clubgrounds would remain zoned residential under both plans sought.

The Calumet County Park and Zoning Commission turned down this second request Jan. 20.

The matter was "tabled" when the zoning commission's recommendation was presented to the county board last Tuesday.

March 1 Deadline

County to Consider Offers to Rent Acreage of Defunct Farm

Anyone for 390 acres of Outagamie County farmland?

The Outagamie County Board's public property committee decided Thursday afternoon to take offers on rental of about 390 acres of tillable farmland at the Outagamie County Hospital.

Rental offers will be accepted until the afternoon of March 1. The bids will be opened by the committee March 2. Those interested in renting the land, no longer used after farming operations ended at the county hospital, have the option of bidding on use of the land and buildings together, or separately.

The decision to accept bids came after Stokely Van Camp, Inc., made informal rental offers on just the land and on the land and several buildings.

Property committee members indicated they wanted to take bids on the farmland to avoid "being put on the spot" should other persons who desired use of the land not have a chance.

Appleton Supv. Patrick Mares said "several farmers" have indicated an interest in the land.

Fox River Tractor Co. earlier purchased 28.9 acres of the county hospital land.

V. E. Quakenbush, manager for Stokely Van Camp, told the property committee his firm probably would be interested in a three year lease with an option for an additional two years.

Mares, vice chairman of the property committee, said he would like to see Outagamie County get out of the "land rental business" after the county hospital farmland matter is settled.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler also urged caution in "moving too fast" on the farmland rental, explaining that it could bring criticism from the public.

Calumet Plans County Clinic For Retardates

Session to Determine Capabilities, Proper Training, Placement

SHERWOOD — Preliminary plans to conduct a clinic for Calumet County retardates over 16 years of age who wish to receive training at the new Brown County Community Center in Green Bay, were announced by Mrs. Hugh Leader, route 1, Menasha, president of the Calumet County Association for Retarded Children.

Mrs. Leader told members attending a meeting at the courthouse, Chilton, that she had met with Robert Allen, executive director of the Green Bay facility, and representatives from the Developmental Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) department in Fond du Lac. A clinic will be conducted by professional personnel to determine capabilities and appropriate training placement for the retardate. The date and location will be announced soon, Mrs. Leader said.

She estimated there were about 12 eligible retardates, some had been contacted by her, and others would be when arrangements for the clinic are complete. Having the clinic in Calumet County, Mrs. Leader explained, would eliminate inconveniences for many of the parents involved.

The group agreed to sponsor a week of day camping at a local area park early in June. This marks the first time camping has been attempted in the county. Prayer Network Getting Too Big For One Church

Emergency Service Started to Help Those in Trouble

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP)—Three years ago Vivian Deal started an "Emergency Prayer Network" at her church and the program has now mushroomed to the point that the church gets about 750 calls a year.

"We get more out of state calls from such places as Florida, California, Virginia and Oklahoma than we do local calls," says Mrs. Deal.

"Actually, the program has proven so popular that it is just about getting too big for us to handle," says Mrs. Deal, a member of the First Church of God here.

"We want to limit the prayer service to persons who have serious problems, but too many people with minor troubles are calling," she explained.

She said the program works like this:

When someone has a serious problem and wants members of the church to pray for them they call the church.

The church has a list of emergency prayer service members and calls the first person on the list. That person, in turn, calls the next person on the list and the chain is continued until each EPN member is notified. On notification, each EPN member immediately conducts five minutes of prayer for the troubled person.

"We actually have four separate EPN lists that we use," Mrs. Deal says.

"Two of the lists contain names of people on call 24 hours a day. The other two lists have names of people on call during the daytime or nighttime only. When we begin the EPN network calls it usually results in at least 40 people praying for the caller."

Church pastor the Rev. David Grubbs says the emergency prayer network has resulted in a tremendous upsurge in membership at his church.

"More people have been converted at our church during the past three years than the total for the previous 15 years," he says. "Too many Christians, prayer is a gimmick to be used only occasionally. We believe that it is a normal daily experience."

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Cantor Edward Graham of the Larchmont Temple has been called a one-man Ecumenical Movement because of his many activities in both the Jewish and Christian communities.

Possessing a magnificent voice, he learned his first Jewish sacred music at his grandfather's knee and earned his first money singing in a Jewish Orthodox synagogue. During his service in the army he was an assistant to a Southern Baptist chaplain. Also he sang for two years in a Radio City Music Hall Glee Club and toured the country with an opera company. Then he turned again to sacred music and enrolled in Hebrew Union College's School of Sacred Music.

To augment his credits for a degree he went to Iowa College, a Roman Catholic institution, and took every English course offered. The life of Jonathan Swift, the great English author who was also an Anglican priest, had a profound influence on him—and was the subject of his doctoral thesis. He received his Ph.D. last June.

Now back at Iowa College he teaches English as Dr. Graham. At the Larchmont Temple, he supervises music, as Cantor Graham.

He enjoys dialogue with the Catholic members of the faculty at Iowa concerning the positions of their religions on many subjects. He says, "As a religious person I am happy to be an instructor where religious idealism lies behind the educational process."

Vatican Urged To Reconsider Celibacy Rule

church and campaign for the right of priests to marry. He predicted that in the long run "we will win this battle."

About 2,000 priests a year reportedly request the Vatican to release them from their vows. Various reasons are cited in the petitions but celibacy problems are most frequently mentioned, according to those in the Vatican who handle such files.

Other priests simply leave for marriage without asking release.

Pope Paul VI quietly sent word to all the bishops in 1965 on simplified ways to proceed in dealing with priests who have married and want to return to the church's sacraments. A priest incurs automatic excommunication if he marries. Power to lift the excommunication must come from the pope.

Celibacy became mandatory in the fifth century and was upheld by a church council in 1123 and by later councils. The church does not teach that celibacy is required by divine law, but rather that it is a long established discipline.

The 1962-1965 Vatican Ecumenical Council reaffirmed celibacy as a benefit to the priesthood while noting that it is "not demanded by the very nature of the priesthood."

Morse Pledges Support For Kennedy in 1968

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Sen. Wayne L. Morse, D-Ore., says he will support Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., for the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination.

Morse said he cannot support anyone who favors escalation of the Vietnam war.

Third Puppy Safe, Sound Atop Ground

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The Clark household was trying to get back to normal today after the last of three German shepherd puppies was rescued from a 28-foot well.

Besides the now-famous pups, the household includes Mr. and Mrs. Avery L. Clark Jr., five children, six other dogs, five cats and three horses.

"Maybe we can get back to normal now," Mrs. Clark said. "The telephone rang all the time with words of encouragement from Cincinnati, San Francisco, New York and other places."

The four-week-old dogs had wandered away from their mother, Lady, five days ago and tumbled into the well.

Two of the pups were rescued Thursday. One was hauled out in a sling baited with food. The last was pulled up Friday with a noose attached to a long pole. "I think if these pups could talk, they'd say that man is dog's best friend," Clark said.

Latin Summit Set in April

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — Western Hemisphere foreign ministers gathered for an unusual weekend session today to hammer out details for an inter-American summit conference.

Informal agreement was reached Friday to hold the meeting at the resort city of Punta del Este, Uruguay, possibly starting April 14. Chiefs of state of 20 nations, including President Johnson, are expected to attend.

The main goals of the summit will be to launch a Latin-American common market and bolster the jagging Alliance for Progress, which was launched at Punta del Este in 1961.

at least 128 North Vietnamese Wednesday and Thursday when the enemy attacked the division's bases near the Cambodian border and 230 miles north of Saigon.

U.S. Marines made an amphibious assault on the central coast in Operation Deckhouse Six Thursday and killed 62 guerrillas.

In addition to the enemy dead in these contacts, several hundred others were killed in scores of patrol actions throughout the republic.

The allies did not escape losses. One company of the U.S. 4th Division suffered heavy casualties and several others had moderate casualties. Two companies of the Korean marines had moderate casualties. The U.S. Marines, South Vietnamese and Australian troops reported light casualties.

In the air war, bad weather again curtailed missions over North Vietnam Friday with U.S. Navy and Air Force fighter-bombers flying only 41 sorties involving an estimated 120 planes.

Housewives Eye Another Food Boycott

GRAFTON (AP) — A housewives' boycott of supermarkets in eastern Wisconsin, which had a brief and sluggish life last year, appears to be attempting a comeback. The Milwaukee Homemakers' League for Lower Food Prices announced a renewed campaign Wednesday and included Kohl's, SENTRY and A&P as supermarket chains with outlets ripe for picketing.

Mrs. Lucille Phillips of Grafton, who organized picketing of stores in Ozaukee County last October, said her group is ready to back the Milwaukee housewives' program.

"There is still enough antagonism here about high grocery prices to generate a good deal of support for the league's boycott," she said.

Attempts at a boycott appeared last year from Racine to Appleton. Politics involved in the approach of the Nov. 8 election encouraged some women to postpone their plans until after the election, and the project did not get underway again until the recent Milwaukee action.

Milwaukee Judges Feel Court Comfort More Needy Than Thrift

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Two Circuit Court judges say the courtroom chairs in which they must work should have the comfort of American-made cars. Judge John L. Coffey and Judge Herbert J. Steffes asked Milwaukee County's Purchasing Standardization Committee Friday to buy 176 new chairs costing an estimated $27,915.

That is about $7,500 greater than the lowest bid for the purchase. The costlier chairs have more cushions, are bigger and might hold up better under a criminal court's traffic, Coffey said.

"It's the difference" between a plush U.S. car and a small foreign make, Coffey said.

Let's EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

ARE TWO HEADS REALLY BETTER THAN ONE? YES ☐ NO ☐

Yes. When two or more people tackle a problem, they come up with more possible answers in a shorter period of time than any one of the individuals could by himself. Interestingly enough, the same principle holds for lower animals — very much lower animals. A University of Michigan team of scientists has found that even the simple little fresh water flatworm learns faster with two heads than one. Where does it get two heads? It grows them in a process of regeneration by which an organism can grow a missing part from whatever is left, or, when a head is split, each half grows into a complete head. The two-headed worms are smarter than those with one head. Since man hasn't this ability, we will have to "pick each other's brains."

Does psychotherapy work better with some than others? Yes ☐ No ☐

Yes. A great deal more knowledge is needed about what types of therapy are best for what kinds of patients and for what types of disturbance. But research finds in general, that

Ypsilanti Closes Case on UFOs

YPSILANTI, Mich. (AP) — "I'm not going to worry about these things until I can see the little men waving." With that, Police Chief Ray Walton of Ypsilanti closed the file on the latest report of flying saucers in Michigan.

Police received several telephone calls Thursday night from persons who reported seeing unidentified flying objects in the Ypsilanti-Ann Arbor area.

Later, a telephone caller told police that a friend of his was launching weather balloons with flares attached — accounting for the UFO reports, and Friday police closed out the case.

Koreans Killed On Target Range

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Eight South Korean civilians were killed and two wounded Thursday when they strayed onto an artillery range where U.S. and Korean troops were holding target practice.

A spokesman for the U.S. 8th Army said all safety precautions had been taken and warning notices posted in the area near Yonchon, 40 miles north of Seoul.

Korean police said the victims were scrap metal scavengers from villages in the area.

Korean and U.S. authorities are investigating.

Guatemalan Colonel Assassinated in Car

GUATEMALA (AP) — Lt. Col. Eduardo Figueroa, deputy chief of the Guatemalan air force, was assassinated Thursday as he sat in his car waiting for his children to leave school.

Authorities said an automobile drove slowly by, shots rang out and Figueroa slumped in his seat. Police blamed the terrorist National Liberation Army, which has carried out murders, kidnappings for ransom and bombings.

involvement. He couldn't get out without breaking his oath. He was trapped."

Threat of Jail Brown said the CIA told the students that if they broke the oath and disclosed the spy agency they might go to jail for as long as 20 years.

"I feel it was disgusting, horrible, that a person could be duped into such a relationship with no way out," said Brown. "He either had to break his oath or continue to dupe others."

"You should know the agony this caused. That is the real horror of CIA involvement," Eugene Groves, NSA president, said the decision to end the relationship was reached last summer and that since then efforts have been made to obtain independent financing so the CIA involvement could be ended.

"That involvement has been ended," he said, but added that the rent-free headquarters building remained a problem to be solved. The NSA will either move or try to find a non-CIA source to pick up the payments, he said.

One thing is certain, Groves said, and that is that NSA will stay in business. "We have no intention of dissolving."

It most likely will get out of international activities, however, he said, and concentrate on its domestic programs and services to the 1.3 million students at the 300 colleges affiliated with it.

Milwaukee Woman Loses $884 to Robbers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A 79-year-old Milwaukee widow told police two men posing as Internal Revenue Service agents robbed her of $884 Friday.

Mrs. Ida Greenwald said the men knocked at her door and asked to check her 1966 income tax return. They fled leaving her handcuffed, she said.

Suharto to Urge Sukarno to Quit

JAKARTA (AP) — Fearing that congressional ouster of President Sukarno might ignite the nation, Indonesia's military leaders were reported preparing to try again Sunday to persuade him to quit.

The announcement that strongman Gen. Suharto will lead a military delegation to where President Sukarno came four days after Suharto's staff coordinator, Maj. Gen. Alamsjah, said there would be "no more missions, no more talks" with the 66-year-old president. Suharno rejected last Tuesday a military proposal that he formally transfer his powers to Suharto and leave the country before Congress meets March 7.

4 Married—both husband and wife over 65 with gross income of $1,600 or over.

The state provides two forms for individuals preparing income tax returns. The most popular form (labeled 1A) is quick and simple. You need not attach a copy of your federal return, nor even compute your tax. The Department of Taxation will compute your tax for you and send you a refund or a statement of the amount of tax due.

Limited Use This form is rather limited in uses, since your total income may not exceed $10,000, and your income from sources other than those subject to Wisconsin withholding tax (including dividends, interest, etc.) may not exceed $200.00.

Another disadvantage of the short form 1A is that you cannot itemize your deductions.

Under state law you may reduce your earned income by such deductions as amounts spent for medicine and drugs, medical and dental expenses, hospital insurance premiums, contributions, interest, and such taxes as real estate, gasoline, income tax, personal property taxes, and certain sales taxes. By using the regular form 1, you may also deduct certain "adjustments" for sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses and payments by self employed retirement plans.

Form 1 must also be used where "Modifications" to the federal income are required to arrive at "Wisconsin total income." These modifications are necessary in areas where the state and federal laws do not parallel each other. These "modifications" and their treatment will be the subject of another article in this series.

Desensitization Works And Is Most Effective

BY JOSEPH MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner I am 14 and have had hay fever three years and this year was the worst of all. My eyes just about swelled shut I took medication but it didn't seem to help I read in your column that there was a preparation which can be given by a physician to desensitize you to ragweed. How rapidly does this work? — Miss J K

Desensitization does not work rapidly, but it can be very effective. This is how it does so. When you have "hay fever," it means that your system can tolerate very little pollen, and you have an allergic reaction to it.

Desensitization must be started many months before the hay fever season arrives. The physician makes tests to learn precisely what pollen or pollens may be causing your trouble. (There are quite a few besides the infamous ragweed.)

Then he injects extremely small doses of the offending pollen extracts — not enough to cause an allergic response, but enough so your system gradually builds up some tolerance.

This will not protect you against exposure to a large amount of pollen, but will serve you well if you avoid too much exposure.

It isn't too early to start such treatments now in preparation for next fall's hay fever season.

Dear Dr. Molner: Why do doctors perform spinal taps? What information are they looking for?—Mrs. N. H.

Quite a wide assortment of neurological problems can be treated. The specific information from a tap (or puncture) can include a measurement of pressure; signs of infection (presence of white blood cells as well as actual germs); presence of sugar, protein and chlorides; presence of red blood cells, if brain hemorrhage is suspected. Serological tests for syphilis are essential in some instances.

It should be remembered that such tests often are performed to rule out certain possibilities, as well as for positive diagnosis.

Dear Dr. Molner I think I have venereal disease. What do I do to get rid of it? Does it mean I cannot have children when I am older? — L.I.

There is only one thing to do: Go to a doctor. He is bound by his Hippocratic oath not to gossip about it, so do not let that worry you. Untreated V.D. can prevent subsequent pregnancy, so get treatment without delay.

Dear Dr. Molner: Is there any treatment for cystic fibrosis in children? Can they improve or gradually get worse? — Mrs. R.S.

This is a bitter, dangerous disease, and I would not feel right in minimizing it. It involves difficulty in keeping the respiratory passages clear, and problems in maintaining nutrition because the system does not assimilate food efficiently. It is used to be that such children died young. Today some of them are growing to adulthood, but it is a constant struggle with numerous medications necessary to loosen phlegm in the bronchi, suppress infection which is a constant threat, and to assist in digestion.

Much progress has been made, but research people are still working to determine the basic cause. Until we know that, hope for a cure appears remote.

Note to J.J.C.: No, emphysema is not contagious. True, the damage caused by tuberculosis can contribute to emphysema as an aftermath, but emphysema occurs when there has been no trace of TB.

The C.I.A. Subsidy to Students

We generally are inclined to discount most of the charges that the Central Intelligence Agency threatens American principles of liberty, justice and openness. And then comes along the admission that the C.I.A. had been handing over money to the National Student Association in secret.

The aim, according to the explanations now given, was to encourage American college students to travel in foreign lands and speak up for the American way of life. They were to combat the well organized groups of Communist youth who often were inclined to dominate various international youth conferences and who were often vocal advocates of Marxism and the particular lines communism was following on world affairs at the moment.

The conflict with communism around the world is a serious one. We found out during the Korean War that quite a few young Americans captured by the enemy did not understand enough about their heritage or why their country was fighting to resist what may have been rather elementary brain washing. Presumably the best informed and dedicated are not immune to the more specialized forms of such indoctrination. But is the answer to government sponsored advocates of one system supposed to be similarly government sponsored advocates of another? We think not.

The essence of the American experi-

Job Corps Dropouts

A private firm under contract with the Job Corps of the Office of Economic Opportunity has made a survey of corps dropouts to try to determine what is wrong. At least 30 per cent of those who start the Job Corps training program do not finish it.

Many people do not give the real reasons for actions when questioned. But those which the survey brought out do seem to be highly pertinent. The highest reason given for dropping out or for not liking the corps was "too many fights." Just the opposite type of reason placed second; "too strict discipline." Down the line somewhere among the complaints was what obviously should have been the major reason, "not getting the training wanted."

The survey expounded that "for most of these young men and women, the Job Corps was a bright hope for their future, perhaps their last hope. Their hopes have been dimmed and their expectations frustrated. The fault must lie primarily with the Job Corps. In many cases, the centers did not provide either the environment or the training that would have encouraged the dropout to stay."

The young men and women who are in the Job Corps have had serious problems either in home background or school situations. They are not easy to work with. While the causes in most cases are inequalities in the home and neighborhoods, no one should expect that unfortu-

Little by Little

The decision announced by Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara to draft some 30,000 reservists who are "unwilling or unable" to serve regularly in their reserve units is a wise one and somewhat overdue. But it points up once more why there is that vast credibility gap between what people in the Administration say one moment and what the public is asked to believe the next.

Certainly reservists who fail to attend drills and summer camps do not deserve the draft deferment they have previously had. They are obviously using their reserve status, not to contribute to the nation's military requirements, but to escape such responsibility. Even though a lot of other young men are attempting such evasion through hasty marriages, the begetting of children and extended education, the reserve loophole was one to plug.

But what the action really means is that our military forces are being spread increasingly thin and in part this is due to the Administration's refusal in the past to acknowledge how great were the needs of the war in Vietnam.

Last fall, conveniently around election time, Secretary McNamara announced that draft calls for the spring would be cut. Presumably, if the need was recognized by Mr. McNamara, there were already plans to find some other source of manpower such as the inactive reservists. But of course there was no such announcement at that ment is liberty and equality and that includes the right to hold and expound opinions. For the sake of national security it does not include the right to hold sensitive government positions. But by paying the way to foreign countries of certain young American students who apparently held the correct opinion about democracy, the United States government was subsidizing the very thing it is supposed to oppose — controlled thought.

It has not been sufficiently explained whether the young people so subsidized understood why, or whether some may actually have been working as espionage agents. Spying is at best a distasteful business and certainly anyone being used for that purpose in this country should have the right to know it. It is also interesting that the financial arrangements which started early in the 1950's were terminated in 1965. Had the Communist threat diminished? Or was it getting hard to find students willing to explain the American role in Vietnam?

The conflict between liberty and security is a never ending one where exact lines are difficult to establish. The C.I.A. has as its major purpose only the matter of security. But members of the National Student Association are quite right in feeling both anger and astonishment that an agency of the United States government would so use for its own purposes unaware American citizens.

nate personal characteristics will disappear just because an opportunity opens up. But the question still comes up as to just how far any agency can succeed in overcoming the handicaps that stem from childhood. The Job Corps dropouts joined the program in the first place for training for job opportunities. But they have been unable to maintain that aim as they leave for other reasons. Perhaps they should not be expected to.

There is another big element in the relationships in the Job Corps — the racial antagonisms principally between whites and Negroes. Nineteen per cent of the white dropouts listed "too many Negroes" as a reason. And while 61 per cent of the Negro dropouts classified other Job Corpsmen as good, only 37 per cent of the white dropouts agreed. As the survey pointed out, trying to strike a balance between the freedom that permitted the fights and the discipline that irritated was complicated and "compounded by the racial hostility that exists."

A major problem for the Job Corps is that it is not really enough to offer to the disadvantaged the job training that should enable them to get meaningful work. How can it get across the necessity of accepting responsibility for one's own actions, the importance of tolerance of others, and the encouragement of a long range view?

If the Job Corps professionals ever find out, a lot of parents would profit.

time as it would clearly have embarrassed the Administration.

Hanson Baldwin, military analyst for the New York Times, points out that our commitments in both Asia and Europe continue to keep various military activities under considerable pressure. Because so many installations are used for the training of new troops, few units are combat ready. As the casualties mount in Vietnam and as trained officers and non-coms retire and resign, as they are continuing to do except when frozen, the need for trained men increases.

So far the Administration has refused to consider withdrawing more troops from Europe either to send to Vietnam or to be used as back-up forces in this country. Senator Mike Mansfield has called for a review of our troop needs in Europe with the idea of bringing some home and this may in fact even be an Administration ploy to get the subject discussed and considered. Apparently the Administration is reluctant to bring the matter up itself because of the widespread European criticism of our policies in Vietnam.

Since the most recent flurry of peace feelers came to nothing, perhaps it is time for the country to acknowledge that we are in the third largest war of our history and that sacrifices are going to have to be made by everyone. At this point it is clear that the Johnson Administration is not yet ready to sacrifice any political advantages it hopes to have by the piecemeal approach to war.

Diabolical Plot Dicussed

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Post for Feb. 21, 1867.

We have received direct information of a diabolical conspiracy which has been entered into by certain rebel citizens of Cannon, White and Warren counties, (in Virginia) to procure the assassination of a number of leading and influential Union men, all late officers of the Federal Army, residing in the Third Congressional District.

The following are the names of the persons marked for death and the sums offered for making away with them: Col.

W. B. Stokes, $5,000; Col. Blackburn, $4,000; Col. Pleasure, $4,000; Capt. Vanatta, $2,000; Capt. Hathaway, $2,000.

A rebel citizen living near Alexandria, in DeKalb County, has offered to give $1,000 for the assassination of Capt. Vanatta.

It is understood that three notorious cut-throats, who were once members of Champ Ferguson's gang of bushwhackers, have been employed to do the work. Several Union citizens, fearful of their lives, have fled to Alexandria for safety, where a number of discharged Federal soldiers, formerly belonging to Col. Stokes' cavalry, reside.

Our best men are murdered and leading rebel newspapers call it "retributive justice." This plot for wholesale assassination of other leading loyalists is the legitimate consequence of the incendiary and villainous articles of rebel organs.

Can any man doubt that a loyal militia is imperatively required?

Washington Was a Traveling Man; Rode Horseback Just Before Death

BY RICHARD F. NEWCOMB
AP Newsfeatures Writer

George Washington was a traveling man. He first hit the road in 1748, when he was 16 years old. From then until his death at 67 his journeys took him up and down the Eastern seaboard from Portsmouth, N.H., to Savannah, Ga., and into the Lady Eagles. Other new officers included Mrs. Frank Lickert, Mrs. F. G. Hoffman, Mrs. William Meyer, Mrs. Vlier Herman, Mrs. Martha Oelfke, Mrs. C. N. Dresler, Mrs. A. P. Laux, Mrs. Martha Meyer, Mrs. Emma Grassel, Mrs. L. Heroux, Mrs. Edith Villiquette, Mrs. Emma Block. Grant Wood, famous Iowa artist, died the previous night in Iowa City. Lawrence College presented him with an honorary degree in 1938.

Four athletes well known throughout the Fox River Valley were to leave Monday for service in the United States Coast Guard. They were Bill Jahnke, Appleton, former member of the Flying Dutchmen gridders; Don Paulie, Appleton, Unmuth Drug basketball star; John Blick, Appleton, also an Unmuth star player, and Robert Busch, Kimberly, former Kimberly High cager. After their induction in Chicago, the foursome was to go to Manhattan Beach, Brooklyn for eight weeks of training.

10 YEARS AGO
Saturday, Feb. 16, 1957.

Knighthood was in flower once again for students at Holy Angels School in Darboy as they built a castle, made costumes for themselves and presented a program in medieval history. Working under Sister Mary Maureen on the project were Edward Marx, John Stumpf, Michael Palm, David Hermes, Dennis Coenen, Robert Hoelzel, Sharon Meehl, Delores Wittman, Janet Schmalz, Florence Van Handel, Lois Kauer and Dennis Dietzen.

Mrs. Harley B. Splitt, Appleton, was the new president of the Federation of Republican Women of Outagamie County. Other officers were Mrs. Talbot Peterson, vice president; Mrs. John Studinger, secretary, and Mrs. W. E. Radant, treasurer.

Red Cross nursing certificates were awarded to graduates of a new course sponsored by the Red Cross and the Neenah Vocational School. The five graduates were Mrs. Tom Seidel, Mrs. Hazen Adams, Mrs. Delmar Chavers, Mrs. Clarence Gohlke and Mrs. Louis Carrier.

Wilderness as far west as Ohio and north nearly to Lake Erie. There was even one sea voyage, in 1751, when he was 19, with his older half-brother, Lawrence. They sailed to Barbados.

A year later Lawrence was dead, and so was his daughter Sarah, and George was heir to Virginia estates eventually totalling 8,000 acres. He loved farming, and worked hard at it, but in the years to follow he was called away many times.

George's first trip, as a boy with a surveying party, took him into the wilds of the Shenandoah Valley where he encountered an Indian war party with a scalp and German immigrants who "speak all Dutch." His diary recorded that he slept under "one thread Bear blanket with double its weight of Vermin such as Lice, Fleas &c."

A STRAPPING YOUTH

For the next two years, as official surveyor of Culpeper County, he was constantly traveling in unsettled country in Culpeper, Frederick and Augusta counties. Then came the voyage to Barbados, and at 20 the responsibility of managing estates with slaves, livestock and tenant families. He was a strapping youth, 6-foot-2, 175 pounds, excelling in wrestling and colt-breaking, and fond of horse-racing, billiards, cards, parties and a spot of meidreia wine.

But the bucolic life in Virginia had many interruptions. In the fall of 1753, Lieutenant Governor Robert Dinwiddie sent George off to warn the French to stay out of British lands in the Ohio Valley. Traveling through the winter with an expert guide, Washington reached Fort Le Boeuf, 20 miles from Lake Erie, near the present Waterford, Pa. The French told Washington they meant to have the Ohio Valley "and by God they would do it."

George raced home with the news, mostly at a gallop, and

Inauguration of New Vocational System Proceeding Rapidly

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
MADISON — It now appears safe to forecast the achievement of the historic vocational education redistricting plan for the state at an earlier time than planners had hoped, and with fewer obstacles and less resistance than the most optimistic among them had expected.

Wyngaard

Mapping of the boundaries of the operating districts has proceeded with surprising ease, everything considered. There remains the problem of working out a particable district in the broad expanse of northwestern Wisconsin. Distances there may be unrealistic within the operating criteria the educational officers have prescribed for the more populous sections. But the outlook is for an acceptable compromise. There will be some boundary disputes elsewhere, but everybody involved knows they cannot be avoided and in fact they are fewer in number than had appeared possible only a year earlier.

On the whole the delicate, politically hazardous and altogether challenging task has continued with astonishing success. Remembering the fear and the anger of public service interests whenever a change in the pattern of their ways is suggested — witness the indignant furore about the state administrative agency reorganization plan currently — the quiet acceptance by the vocational school director and boards of this total revamping of their program is one of the noteworthy sidelights of the story.

BLUEPRINT ONLY

Thus far the reorganization map has been drawn in broad strokes only. The execution will present difficulties already visible, but the constructive attitude of all of the interests involved thus far suggests that the remaining barriers will also be surmounted.

Big questions remaining include the apportionment of the seats on the new district school governing boards, the location of the central schools within the district that will offer the major courses in the enriched and strengthened technical training programs, the location and the programming of the satellite schools that will be required in most districts, and most of all the acquisition of qualified staffs for the broadened teaching programs in a time of acute teacher shortages in many of the specialties.

There may also be some political resistance when the idea penetrates those broad sections of the state which thus far have been exempt from vocational school tax liability that the inclusion of all territory within the state within operating districts will also bring a new tax bill to the heretofore excluded area. A potential rise of two mills is a formidable one for those thus far not liable. It will almost surely bring demands for more state support than has thus far been afforded.

SYSTEM IMBALANCE CITED

The essential meaning of this quiet revolution of the local school structure is its objective in redressing what Gov. Knowles has so often called an "imbalance" in the state's public higher education budget.

While additional thousands of young people each fall enroll in college and university, opportunities for serious technical education have lagged. Many of the thousands of boys and girls who finish college, moreover, are not employed upon graduation as fruitfully or prosperously as they had imagined. Meanwhile, Wisconsin employers are hungrily seeking out technicians, and finding them mostly in acutely short supply.

"We have a 'brain drain' at the college level, and an absolutely critical shortage of highly skilled men and women to run our manufacturing plants," said Ray Jondahl, president of the Wisconsin State Chamber of Commerce at a recent meeting of business leaders. "We have potential executives by the thousands at the University, and we run want ads by the thousands of dollars begging for technicians for our automated society," he lamented.

Inaccessibility Problem Of UW Shorewood Site

Editor, Post-Crescent:

One year has passed since the Shorewood site was selected as the location for UW-GB. East Green Bay and some property owners are still elated over the selection, but there is no evidence of support from anywhere else. Many people worked long and hard to establish a need for the school and to establish the criteria for the location of this institution. This work was all but completely ignored in choosing the site. Another item of interest might be that President Harrington is the only member of the site committee who still retains the position he held in February of 1956. This situation plus the expenditure of taxpayers' money for land and planning makes attempts to change the site quite difficult.

The reasons for the difficulty of getting funds for this school at the Shorewood site is easily understood. The school would benefit such a small number of people that large expenditures would receive little support and cannot be justified. It is possible that in four or five years if the vague promises of roads and bridges comes true, that more justification and support for money would be forthcoming.

Until firm commitments

President of the United States and he was off to New York again, for inauguration at Wall Street on April 30. He served eight years, refused a third term, and retired to Mount Vernon in March, 1797.

His last journey began on horseback Dec. 12, 1799, when he went riding in cold and snow. He returned exhausted and ill, and at 10 p.m. on Dec. 14 he died. "I feel myself going," he said. "Let me go off quietly. I cannot last long." The travels of George Washington were over. Far off in Europe the British fleet and the armies of Napoleon rendered salute, and the United States he had traversed so often was in mourning.

are made or the site is changed, no justification or support for more money is possible. About $10 million has been, or is being spent for X-ways on the West side of Green Bay and even completion of that road is now delayed or in "Limbo", as State Senator La Fave has stated. If that is true we have some idea of just how far off these other improvements are.

We would like to see the state make use of some money that is already committed and not spend money to prime the pump for an endless flood of highway funds to get people to Green Bay's East side. Door County is a wonderful recreation area, but North, East and West of it is water. We cannot build access routes to such areas when other needs are so acute.

Yes, we do realize that Brown County has spent a considerable amount of money acquiring property, but those board members have been residents of the area long enough to know and understand the traffic problems which have existed for well over a quarter of a century. The land was acquired with full knowledge of all the problems involved and I certainly hope that these problems were given full consideration.

Last month I heard a talk entitled "Keys to Success." The key words in this speech were: "Find a need, and fill it". The people of Northeastern Wisconsin found the need and documented that need with the full support of the people. It seems quite evident the need has not been filled. The big culprit is inaccessibility, not some people in Outagamie County. This problem can be solved simply in either of two ways. Make the Shorewood site accessible, or select an accessible site. When the need is filled, it will receive the full support of the people.

NBC Special on Guns Shows Great Promise

Jingo Discovers Some Interesting Facts About Open Gun Purchases in Texas

BY JINGO

While Dallas was commemorating the third anniversary of President Kennedy's death, an NBC news reporter picked up the same type gun used by Lee Harvey Oswald in a downtown Dallas gun store within a mile of the assassination scene.

Jingo

Just three months after the Texas tower massacre of Aug. 1, 1966, the same reporter bought one of the same guns that mass-slayer Charles Whitman purchased from the same Austin, Tex., store.

March 19 Date

These disclosures will be made, Jingo learned Friday, in a March 19 documentary, "An NBC News Inquiry: Whose Right to Bear Arms?" The Sunday telecast, in color, will air from 5:30-6:30 p.m. on Channel 5.

The above incidents may indicate how easily accessible weapons are, even in areas which could very well be sensitive about this area, but what Jingo finds interesting in the acquisition of these particular guns was the manner in which reporter Rafael Abramovitz made the purchases.

When Abramovitz walked into the Dallas gun store on Nov. 22, 1966, and asked for the 6.5 mm Manlicher-Carcano carbine, an old man in the store said, "Oh, you want the gun that killed the big man."

The salesman said: "The one Oswald used on Kennedy! Just got one left."

Looked Disreputable

"I wore no jacket, I had on round sunglasses, my hair was long and I deliberately tried to look disreputable," Abramovitz said. "He asked no identification and just asked me my name and address. I told him I was from New York."

Abramovitz paid $20.45 for the rifle, including ammunition, after the salesman assured him it was operable. The NBC newsman walked boldly into the street, took the paper wrapping off the barrel and finally off the whole gun.

"I was carrying the gun in one hand and ammunition in the other," Abramovitz added, "and nobody seemed to pay any attention. I bumped into people on Main Street and walked through crowds."

Stands Near Policeman

"I purposely stood near a policeman at an intersection waiting for a traffic light to change, with the gun and ammo in my hands. He didn't say a thing."

"That same day I had been warned not to jaywalk by a policeman. He let me go when I told him I was from out of town. Ironically, though, I had broken no law by carrying the gun."

In Austin, Abramovitz purchased a 30-caliber carbine while wearing a shirt, dungarees, sunglasses and "acting strangely."

The salesman asked Abramovitz three questions: "Are you over 21? Are you drunk? Are you crazy?"

Pretends He's Peculiar

He answered affirmatively to the first question and negatively to the final two queries, even though he pretended to have something wrong with him.

He told the salesman he was from New York, then showed a Maryland driver's license. No suspensions. Abramovitz, after having been assured "you don't look crazy to me," paid $99.45 for gun and ammo and carried interesting news special.

Bingo Host On 'Palace' Once Again

BY TV SCOUT

8:30-9:30 (Channels 11-6-9) — The Hollywood Palace once again calls on Bing Crosby to host. And in general it's an entertaining, slick hour of song and easy humor. Also on hand is Ella Fitzgerald who joins Bing in a medley and sings sweetly. "How Long Has This Been Going On." Also on hand are Alice Faye, singing "Mame," and husband Phil Harris who contributes "It Was a Very Good Year."

6:30-7 (Channels 4-5) — Guess what happens to Flipper this week? The jolly dolphin gets kidnapped just like any other TV hero. In this tense little episode, Fred Silber is a lad who thinks he can convince Brian Kelly to drop a poaching charge if he keeps Flipper under wraps.

6:30-7:30 (Channels 2-7-12) — The Jackie Gleason Show repeats its book musical, "The Politician." Gleason plays Fairly Honest Finley, who has been mayor of Central City for 20 years and is up for re-election, opposing clean-cut, disheveled Elliot Reid, who in private life is an astronaut, a movie star, a race car driver

7:30-8:30 (Channels 2-12) — Mission: Impossible sweats it out with that familiar yarn about a bad guy governor of a penal colony who uses his position to corrupt the natives and make profit from an unfriendly country.

7-7:30 (Channels 4-5) — "Re-both out of the store, unwrapped. These incidents indicate, to Jingo, that this will be an interesting news special.

member Lake Serene?" is one of the funnier episodes of the season for Please Don't Eat the Daisies. This concerns the "unhappy life" of an earnest bachelor — a guy Patricia Crowley and Shirley Mitchell are determined to get to the altar.

8-10 (Channels 4-5) — "Lonely are the Brave" on Saturday Night at the Movies is a tough little drama. Kirk Douglas, with jaw thrust neatly forward, plays a modern cowboy who ain't about to cope with the tomfoolery of the 20th Century. The jet age scares him to death. Some spectacular scenery (the Sandia mountains in New Mexico).

Menasha Upsets Truckers for Third Straight Victory

Bluejays Take Fifth Place In M-E With 53-44 Triumph

BY GEORGE MANCOSKY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MENASHA — Constructing a handsome, 15-point halftime lead, Menasha didn't permit it to slip under six in the final two periods to upset Clintonville, 53-44, here Friday night.

The triumph, the Bluejays' third straight, boosted them into undisputed fifth place in the Mid-Eastern Conference with their 5-3 record. Clintonville now is 9-4 for third.

Coach Barry Ewald's eagles picked apart the Truckers' man-for-man defense in the first half, breaking for seven layups. And when they missed, they frequently were fouled and added 11 free throws in 16 attempts. They also gained good position on the defensive boards to claim numerous caroms.

Clintonville moved into a zone in the third period and gave the hosts considerably more difficulty. They didn't get a point for the first five minutes of the quarter and only had six in all.

However, the Truckers only were able to sink three baskets in 13 attempts in the frame and, with five free throws, still had a 10-point deficit going into the final stanza.

Menasha still commanded a 10-point lead with five minutes to play but a pair of long shots by Jeron Dieck and Dale Steinko cut the score to 46-40 with 4:20 left.

7 of 11 Free Throws

From then on, it was mainly a free throw shooting affair as the Jays attempted to control the ball and were fouled. They tried 11 free throws in the last 2:54 and made seven.

Clintonville's production during the same span included a pair of giffers with 1:06 left, lowering the spread to eight points, and a rebound goal by Don Kirchner in the waning seconds.

Clintonville's last lead was at 4:3. Menasha was afloat, 15-12, at the close of the first segment and, with the help of a string of eight, raced to a 35-20 halftime advantage. Steve Jansen paced the 20-point second period with four baskets.

Menasha made eight of 12 field goal tries in its productive

Taylor Won't Return, Says Jerry Kramer

BELOIT (AP) — Jim Taylor will never again play for the Green Bay Packers. That's the opinion of Packer guard Jerry Kramer.

Kramer, guest at a sports dinner here, was quoted in the Beloit Daily News as saying:

"Taylor" been coming up to Green Bay for nine seasons and all his ties are in Louisiana. Money isn't the object any longer. He simply wants to finish up near home."

The star fullback played out his option with the Packers in 1966 and will become a free agent May 1 unless he signs another Green Bay contract.

Milwaukee Lincoln Exceeds 100-Point Mark Again

GBW Beats Fond du Lac, Retains Lead

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Torrid Milwaukee Lincoln will not get to the Wisconsin high school basketball tournament after all. The Comets may end up in the NCAA.

The state's top-ranked team played like supercharged collegians Friday night, scoring 103 points in just three periods as they seared Milwaukee Custer 121-79.

Fred Brown pumped in 35 points and Clarence Sherrod 32 against Custer, second to Lincoln in the Milwaukee City Conference.

The Comets, who outscored Custer 41-9 in the third period, open defense of their state championship March 3 against Waukesha—a team that fell before fifth-ranked Whitefish Bay 63-50 Friday night.

Waukesha will need some improvement before taking on Lincoln, a team that has now scored 100 points or more in 12 of its 16 games including each of the past 10.

Alma, the state's top-ranked small school, had to stage an explosion of its own in the final conference title share with a 75-36 win over LaCrosse Logan and three minutes of its game against Fond du Lac.

The Rivermen, trailing 61-50 with only two minutes and 30 seconds to go, struck for an amazing 22 points, tied the game on a Tom Bautech basket with 64 seconds left and rolled on to a 72-65 victory.

61st Straight

The victory was Alma's 61st straight in regular season play and gave them a fifth straight West-Central Conference championship.

Each team in action in the "Big Ten" and all but fourth-ranked Royall in the "Little Ten" won their games.

Royall (15-2) was a 62-61 loser to Nekosha.

But second-ranked major school Monoc, (16-1), the only team to trip Lincoln this season, whipped Sun Prairie 57-39, and third-ranked Neenah (16-1) stopped Kimberly 100-76 as Gary Losse scored 32 points.

Racine Park (16-1) clinched a record, whipped Phelps 87-63. The Big Eight Conference title. The fourth-ranked power jolted free throws beat Hilbert 81-61 and clinched a Little Nine Conference title share.

Sixth-ranked Wausau (15-2) assured itself of a Big Rivers Conference title share with a 75-36 win over LaCrosse Logan and three minutes of its game against Fond du Lac.

South-ranked Plattville (15-2) defeated Brodhead 64-60, and won

Take 31-10 Lead in the First Quarter; Losse Leads Attack With Total of 32 Points

BY ED VAN BERKEL Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — The Neenah High School Rockets showed how they reached their Mid-Eastern Conference goal here Friday night, rolling to a 100-76 win over a game, but inexperienced and outclassed Kimberly team.

The Papermakers lost the game in the first quarter, but had to take a back seat to no one for the remainder of the contest as they battled the powerful Rocket machine on near even terms. The visitors shot slightly over 57 per cent in the contest and had a lofty 66 per cent average at the end of the first half.

Kimberly hit at a respectable 40 per cent clip for the contest, just over 40 in the first half and slightly under 40 per cent in the second half. The Papermakers attempted to stall with less than two minutes left in the game in an effort to prevent Neenah from breaking the 100-barrier, but Jim Burton, a reserve, canned two charity shots in the final three seconds to reach triple figures.

Plays Reserves

Coach Doug Martin could easily achieve the mark had he cared to leave regulars in the game, but he played reserves for the closing half of the final period. The state's third-ranked team jumped off to a 31-10 lead at the end of the first quarter, scoring the last 14 points in the period. Garry Losse, Al Ross, Larry Handler and Jim Fellers all canned baskets within the space of 25 seconds late in the first frame as Kimberly could not bring the ball in bounds against a Neenah press.

Losse put on a dazzling shooting display all night with 33 points on 10 buckets and 12 charity tosses. He had 11 points in the opening frame, besides playing an outstanding floor game.

Kimberly scored the first five points of the second period to close the gap slightly and continued chopping the Neenah lead with Don Hagany and Ken Fries doing the most damage. The Papermakers outscored Neenah, 28-25, in the period, but still trailed by 18 at halftime.

The Papermaker fans came to life in the third period as their favorites continued pecking away at the Big Rocket bulge. at one time cutting the margin to 11 points. Hagany, a flashy sophomore, scored 10 points to lead the Kimberly spurt in the third frame which saw the Neenah margin cut to 72-59 going into the final period.

The Rockets again took command in the final frame and led by Handler and Losse they boosted the margin to 24 points before leaving to let reserves play out the contest. Jankowski played a rugged game off the boards, both offensively and defensively, as well as contributing 21 points to his team's total. Handler finished with 15, many of them soft jumpers from the side.

Hagany led Kimberly with 22, his best effort of the season, while Ken Fries added 19, many coming on driving lay-ups as he battled for every point. Jeff Wildenberg, another sophomore, contributed 14.

Spice Paces Win That Gives Kaukauna Second Spot in M-E

BY TOM VANDER PAS Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KAUKAUNA — Their title aspirations dashed by a pair of setbacks last weekend, Kaukauna High School's Ghosts waited until the final period here Friday night to display their recuperative powers as they offset a 5-point third-quarter deficit, en route to a 69-64 Mid-Eastern Conference triumph over Shawano.

Healing the Ghosts' wounds proved no easy chore, but John Van De Hey and Dennis Spice concocted the right prescription in scoring eight points apiece in a 22-point closing canto.

Trailing, 40-33, at halftime and still on the short end of a 52-47 count heading into the last frame, Kaukauna finally managed to pull even, at 53-51, on a Spice free-throw with 6:40 left in the game.

After Shawano's Leon Penass draped a charity toss, Spice hit a field goal to put the hosts in front for the first time since midway through the second quarter.

The visitors regained a 1-point advantage on two more occasions, before Van De Hey notched his fourth bucket of the period, boosting the Ghosts to a 61-60 edge with 3:10 remaining in the contest.

The Indians fought back again for leads of 62-61 and 64-63, but with 1:10 showing, Dick Carstens' fielder put Kaukauna ahead to stay at 65-64.

Two free throws by the Ghosts' Quinn Vanden Heuvel and a 2-pointer by Carstens closed out the scoring.

With the win, Kaukauna gained sole possession of second place.

In recording their tenth league win in 13 outings, the winners were paced by Spice and Carstens with 25 and 17 points, respectively.

Shawano, now 6-7 in league action, was led by Ron Jesse with 16 tallies, followed by Penass with 12.

The Ghosts converted 26 of 34 field goal attempts for a 48 per cent mark, while the losers did almost as well in netting 44 per cent on 27 of 62 tries at the hoop.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Most observers agreed that the Tucson National Golf Club course was made to order for Arnold Palmer and after two rounds of play he's shown they are right.

"Driving on these fairways is as tough as any course we've played this year," said Palmer, who held a three-stroke lead going into today's third round of the $60,000 Tucson Open Golf tournament.

"One of the reasons I've scored so well is that I've been driving so well," said Palmer, who has stayed out of trouble with all drives on the long, heavily trapped fairways.

Palmer, who has been experimenting with aluminum shaft clubs, carded a five-under-par 67 Friday to go with an opening round 66 to hold a three-stroke lead over scrambling Chuck Courtney.

The all-time top money winner on the pro tour from Latin robe, Pa., recorded seven birdies and a single bogey in the first round play and added six birds and only one bogey Friday.

Courtney, 26, of La Jolla, Calif., was finding the 7,200-yard, par 36-36-72 desert course more of a puzzle than Palmer and has to scramble to stay in close contention.

Terrors Deal Preble 65-34 Cage Defeat

Score Fifth Straight Win To Remain in Contention

BY RON WITT Post-Crescent Staff Writer

APPLETON High School kept its Fox River Valley Conference title hopes alive here Friday night by humbling a ragged, ice-cold shooting Green Bay Preble quintet, 65-34.

The Terrors, who have an engagement with Sheboygan North at home tonight, frolicked to their fifth straight win and 10th in 14 league contests, but nevertheless remained 1 1/2 games behind Green Bay West (12-3) which won.

Coach Dick Emanuel's charges barely worked up a sweat. They jumped off to a 7-0 lead in the first four minutes and the outcome was never in doubt. The Terrors built commanding 16-5, 29-11, and 47-26 advantages at the quarter marks, and a host of reserves helped boost the victory margin to 31 points in the final frame.

Forward Tom Hintz threw in 16 points to lead the winners' scoring and guard Bob Simon added 11, while guard Don Donarski provided half of his team's effort with 17 markers.

In Spotlight Again

Defense, Appleton's forte all season, had the spotlight again as the Terrors limited their opponents to just 12 field goals in 47 attempts, for 25.5 per cent.

The Hornets forced many of their shots and several were partially blocked on their way to the hoop. Appleton, meanwhile, shot an adequate 39.7 per cent, on 27 of 68 attempts.

The visitors from Green Bay, who had appeared anemic in losing to the Terrors, 60-27, earlier in the year, gave indications quickly that just achieving a similar point production for this evening would be a major accomplishment. The Hornets finally got on the scoreboard after 4:12 of the first frame had elapsed when Donarski hit a reverse layup.

That bucket, however, was their only one of the quarter, and not until 2:40 remained in the second period did the Hornets get another one — also by Donarski. Donarski's third goal before the intermission gave Preble three for 20.

Hintz and George Hoffman paced Appleton in the first half of play, hitting seven and five points, respectively, besides dominating the boards. Each wound up with 10 rebounds for the game.

Lawrence Scores Only 2 Points in 10-Minute Span

NORTHFIELD, Minn. — St. Olaf College snapped Lawrence University's Midwestern Conference win streak at two games, 73-55, here Friday night.

The victory allowed the Oles to exchange places with the Vikes in the league. St. Olaf is now 5-7, while Lawrence slipped to 5-8.

The Vikings led for the first five minutes of play before St. Olaf took a 14-13 advantage which it held for the remainder of the half. The score was 32-31 in the hosts favor at intermission.

Lawrence hit the opening bucket of the second half, but the Oles quickly regained the lead and held it the rest of the game. St. Olaf led, 43-39, with 16 minutes to go when the Viking offense fell apart and managed only two points in the next 10 minutes. With six minutes remaining, Lawrence trailed, 62-41, and the Vikes were looking forward to this afternoon's clash with Carleton.

Brian Bock with 12 points and Bob Townsend with 10 were the only Vikes to hit double digits. Paul Graber paced St. Olaf with 18.

Defeats Cornell; Ripon Triumphs Over Carleton

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beloit College was a lead horse again and Carthage College stayed in the swing position while wheel horse Ripon continued to plod after an improved conference basketball standing Friday night.

Beloit regained the Midwest Conference lead with a 74-63 decision over Cornell of Iowa. Ripon crept closer to third-place Knox with a 76-70 victory over Carleton, and Carthage held on to a share of second place in the College Conference of Illinois, beating Augustana 80-76.

St. Olaf dropped Lawrence out of a sixth-place tie in the Midwest loop 73-55. Carroll fell to Lake Forest 82-77 and Lakeland beat Purdue-Hammond 122-87 in nonconference tests.

Games today included Ripon at St. Olaf, winless Grinnell at Beloit, Lawrence at Carleton, Cornell at Coe, Augustana at Carroll, Carthage at North Park, Lakeland at Northland, Eureka at Milton, St. Procopius at Northwestern and St. Norbert at Lorain.

Leads for Minutes
Cornell, having slipped past Beloit into the Midwest lead, led for 11 minutes before the Buccaneers secured a 37-28 halftime lead. Cornell dropped to second with an 8-2 mark.

Jim Jones led Beloit with 27 points and brother Kit added 24 for the Bucs' 10-2 conference mark.

Ripon trailed 42-39 at halftime, but outscored Carleton at a 2-1 pace for five minutes for the eighth victory by the Redmen in 13 conference games. Carleton is 6-6 in the conference.

Ripon, which had helped get Knox out of first place, still has a chance to replace the Siwashers in third place.

Lakeland, the Gateway Conference leader and rated among the nation's top 20 small colleges by the NAIA, had six men scoring in double figures to defeat the Indians.

Guard Phil Springer led the Muskies assault with 23 points. Purdue — Hammond's Frazer Hankens had scoring honors with 25 points.

Lake Forest trailed Carroll 42-40 at halftime before recovering as Fred Broda scored 30 points for the victors.

But the high scorer was Carroll's Tom Rink with 36 points.

Status of 11 Foreign Athletes Uncertain

Kheel's Edict Goes Unheeded

NEW YORK (AP) — The status of 11 foreign athletes caught in the AAU-NCAA cross-fire — eight of whom were scratched from two track meets Friday night — remained uncertain today after the apparent failure of mediator Theodore Kheel's latest peace edict.

The refusal of both the Amateur Athletic Union and the U. S. Track and Field Federation, an arm of the NCAA, to heed a directive issued Friday by Kheel's Sports Arbitration Board left the foreign stars ineligible, according to the AAU, for the New York AC meet in New York and the Golden Gate meet in San Francisco.

Christos Papanicolaou of Greece, a pole vaulter who attends San Jose State, had to pass up the Golden Gate meet while runners Ian Hamilton and Frank Murphy of Villanova and Ireland; Benedict Cayenne and Carver King of Maryland State and Trinidad, and Len Harewood, Ben Catwell and Edric Jordan of New York University and Barbados all sat out the NYAC event.

Together with John Reynolds of Canada and Alex McDonald of Jamaica, who attend the University of Michigan, and Ethiopia UST Sebsibe Mammo of Colby, they are under AAU suspension for competing in an unsanctioned USTFF meet in New York last week.

Friday, Kheel ordered the USTFF to apply to the AAU for retroactive sanction of the meet and directed the AAU to grant sanction — also retroactively — and to lift the suspensions. He accused both factions of violating the spirit of a moratorium they agreed upon last June 16.

The USTFF, however, claimed it had not received Kheel's directive. "We advised Kheel by letter last Dec. 17 of our Federation meet and explained who would be in it," said Father Wilfred Crowley of Los Altos, Calif., president of the USTFF. "We don't feel it necessary to ask sanction of a purely college event, which this was."

The Knights' noted 24 tallies in the second period to hold a 38-34 edge at halftime. Lourdes lengthened its lead to 57-45 after three quarters and coasted in during the final eight minutes.

Springs' Tim Shaw took scoring honors with 22 points, while Jim Colwin chipped in with 15. Frank Secker topped Lourdes with 20.

UCLA Uses Stall in Victory Over Oregon

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
For a coach who abhors the stall in college basketball, John Wooden of the unbeaten UCLA Bruins showed them how to do it.

He had his team, No. 1 in the country in The Associated Press poll, hold the ball for nearly 10 minutes at the start of the second half enroute to a 34-25 victory over Oregon at Eugene Friday night.

Not until Lew Alcindor tapped in a rebound on a missed free throw by Mike Warren was there any scoring in the second half as the Bruins won their 24th straight game, including a carry-over of four from last season. It was the only shot Alcindor took in the entire second half and the 7-foot-1 super-sophomore finished with 12 points, his low of the season.

"It seems evident that this type of play isn't in the best interest of basketball," Wooden said several weeks ago after Southern California used a stall and almost upset the Bruins in a 40-35 overtime game.

Why, then, did he use the stall himself against the Webfoots? "We were ahead," Wooden said. "I'll never do it when we are behind and it's unlikely I'll do it in the first half. But we might do it all the time in the second half when we are ahead."

Marinette '5' Edges Chuters

Second half, "Oscar" Schuler got the ball for the Chuters, drove down the court and swished a 25-footer to make it 36-33. That was the extent of the scoring in the period for the Chuters as the Cavaliers went into a stall and used up six minutes just tossing the ball back and forth.

Committed Fouls
Twice, the Chuters committed fouls as they tried to break up the stall and Salwinsky and Sequin each hit a free throw. Sequin also had a bucket mid-way through the quarter when he broke free under the bucket for a short one.

In the fourth period, the Cavaliers continued to use the stall, although the game did open up a bit when Salwinsky fouled out with 4:51 left on the clock.

Marinette had a 44-36 lead when the Chuters began to pick up steam. Freshman Gary Vandey dropped in two free throws. Rick Van Roy followed with a pair of charity tosses and then Van Roy tipped one in to make it 44-42.

Steve Matty boosted the lead to four for the Cavaliers as he hit a pair of tosses, but Tim Hartjes dropped in a bucket for St. John to make it 46-44, with 2:05 remaining.

Menor then hit a pair of free throws and added another free throw with 15 seconds showing for a 49-44 margin. Just before the horn sounded Tom Felzer dropped in a bucket for the Chuters to reduce the final margin to three.

Slawinsky led both teams in scoring with 18 points, well off his league average of 24.5. Hackel was high for the Chuters with 14, as seven players got in the scoring column.

Pasarell Meets Graebner in Semi-Finals of Indoor Test

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — seeded Graebner is given a chance of scoring an upset over Pasarell — and that would be a mild upset at best.

Graebner, a Northwestern University senior, beat Pasarell in straight sets the only two times they met last year. That was on grass, and Graebner's service picks up additional speed indoors.

Reating veteran Ron Holmberg in Friday night's quarter-finals, 6-3, 7-5, Graebner served 87 aces on the canvas stretched atop the wooden floor of the Civic Center.

Winneconne Clinches Share of Third League Title in Succession

The Winneconne Wolves clinched at least a share of their third consecutive Little Nine Conference basketball title Friday night by whipping Hilbert, 81-61.

The Wolves are currently perched on top of the league with an 11-1 record with only one foe (Omro) standing in the way for the sole championship.

Second place Brillion, which could tie Winneconne if Omro pulls an upset, stayed in contention by drubbing Freedom, 84-42. The Lions own a 10-2 mark in the Little Nine.

Winneconne dropped in 31 free throws to sink Hilbert. The winners snatched a 16-8 first quarter lead and led the rest of the way.

Jeff Selle paced Winneconne with 21 points, while Don Flanagan and John Baitinger contributed 15 and 13, respectively. Hilbert, which lost three starters on fouls, was led by Tom Piepenburg's 22 markers.

The Brillion Lions held the Irish to just five points in the opening stanza, as they hit on only one of 10 shots from the field. The Lions exploded for 30 points in the second stanza, to take a 48-21 halftime advantage

76ers, Celtics Both Triumph

St. Louis Erases 21-Point Deficit to Edge Baltimore

Wally doesn't want to keep up with the Joneses — he wants to keep ahead of them.

So, Wally, who also is a Jones, did his bit Friday night by scoring 10 points in the last quarter, four of them in five seconds, as the Philadelphia 76ers defeated the Cincinnati Royals 127-118.

The victory kept the 76ers 7½ games ahead of the Boston Celtics, the team with the only other Joneses in the National Basketball Association — K.C. and Sam — in the Eastern Division race.

Kept Pace
The Celtics kept pace with Philadelphia, edging the Lakers 120-119 in Los Angeles on a pair of clutch field goals in the last two minutes by John Havlicek.

In the only other game, St. Louis came from 21 points behind to nip Baltimore 133-132 as rookie Lou Hudson scored 24 points in a last-quarter rally.

The Philadelphia victory at Cleveland overshadowed another milestone reached by Cincinnati's great Oscar Robertson. The Big O, now in his seventh NBA season, scored 27 points for a career total of 15,852, putting him seventh ahead of former Royal Jack Twyman on the all-time scoring list. He also replaced Twyman as Cincinnati's greatest scorer.

Commanding Lead
The 76ers were leading 106-98 when Jones scored a basket. He then missed a foul but put in a rebound. He scored eight points in four minutes as the 76ers outscored the Royals 15-7 to take a commanding 119-105 lead.

Hal Greer was high for Philadelphia with 32 points, and Jones notched 23. Wilt Chamberlain scored only 15 but got a career high of 17 assists.

With Boston and Los Angeles tied 115-141, Havlicek connected on a jump shot and then clicked with a driving lay-up to give the Celtics a four-point edge. Tom Sanders' free throw with 47 seconds left iced the verdict.

Dedication Set For Dormitory At WSU-O

OSHKOSH — Gruenhagen Hall, the first high rise dormitory to be constructed on the Wisconsin State University - Oshkosh campus, will be formally dedicated Sunday afternoon, Feb. 26.

The 11-story dorm was opened last fall and presently houses 1,000 students. The building is named in honor of 86-year-old Richard E. Gruenhagen, a former Oshkosh Normal School industrial arts teacher, who resides with his wife at 11 Sunset Point Lane here.

Highway Commission Waits Okay On New State 26 Right-of-Way

BY DON CASTONIA

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

GREEN BAY — Le Roy Empey, district highway engineer for the State Highway Commission, said he expects approval shortly on a new corridor route for State 26 parallel to Fisk Avenue on the north side of the town road.

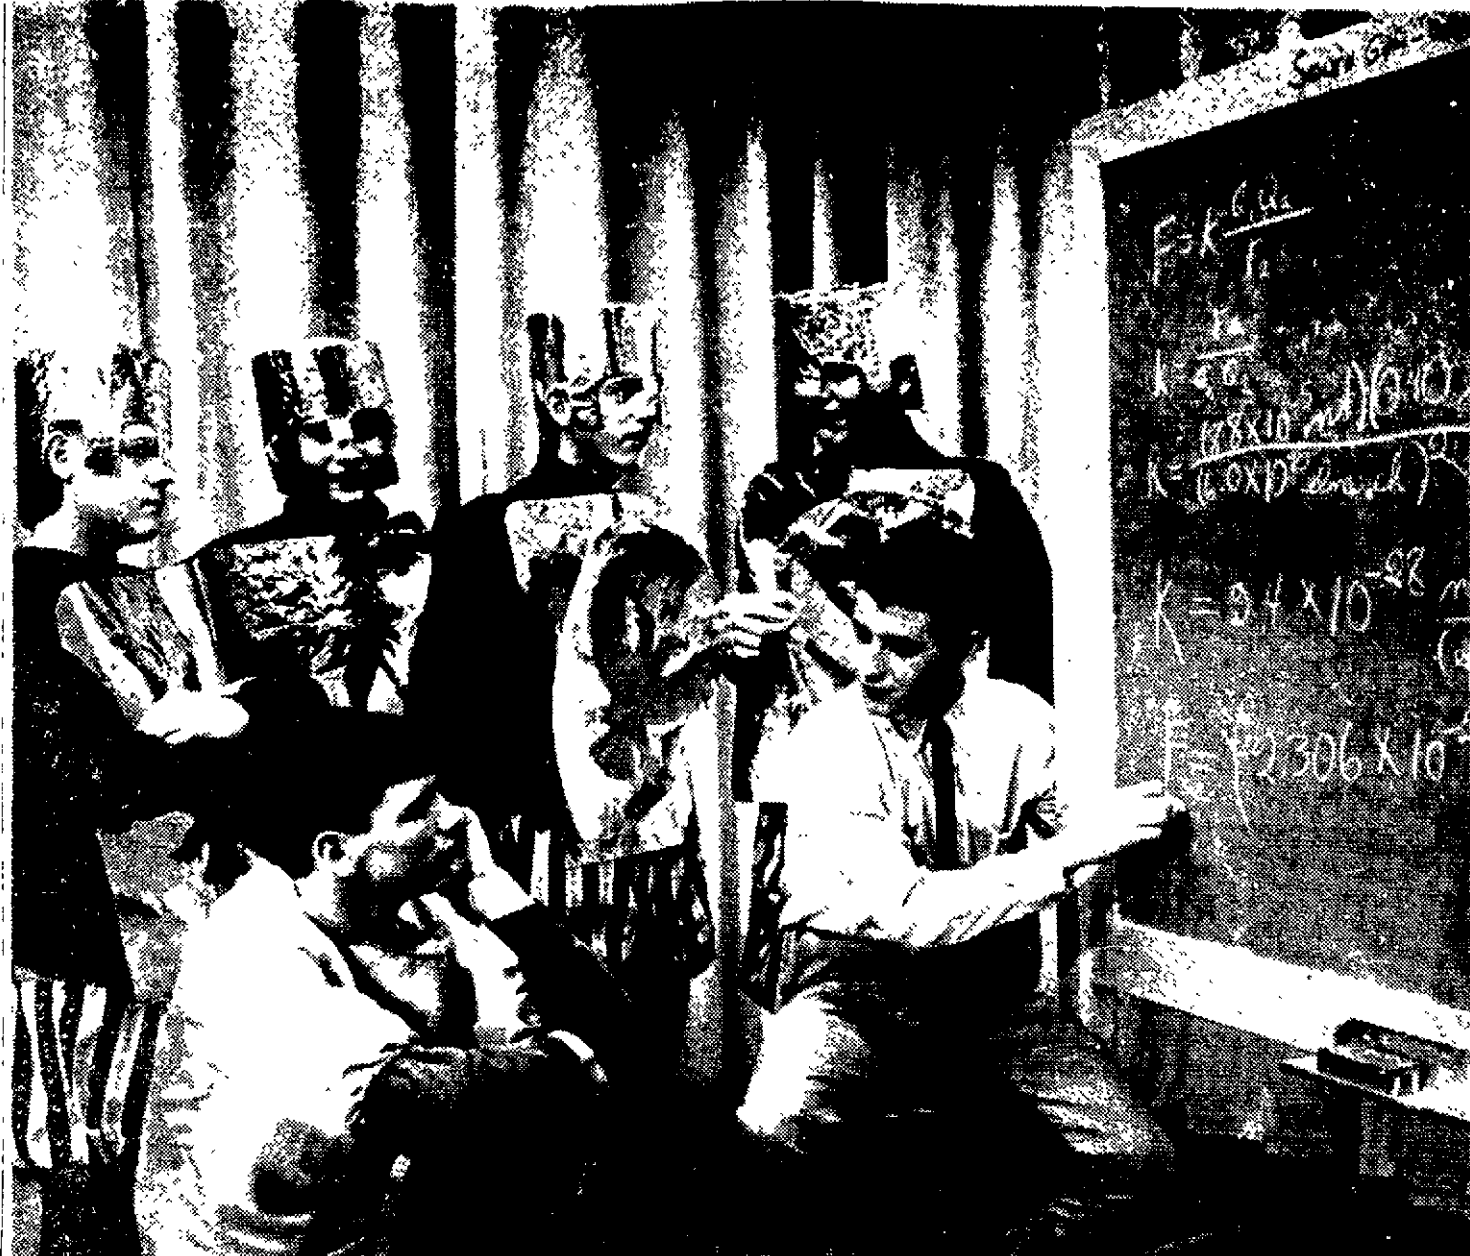

The new right-of-way for state 26 is being required by the state as a condition to closing the present highway between U. S. airport expansion. The county is responsible for the right-of-way acquisition.

Board Balks

The state had recommended a corridor about midway between Ripple Road, which will be the southern end of the new runway, and Fisk Avenue, a mile south. However, the county board balked at this location and, while appropriating the necessary funds, declined to accept that route.

The county aviation committee had strenuously objected on the grounds that if the new runway would ever have to be extended again it would interfere with the highway.

Empey emphasized that acquiring the right-of-way does not mean the new highway will be built immediately or even in the near future. The highway commission, he said, is only interested in making sure that a right-of-way is available when the highway is needed.

Five Cattle Killed; Others Run Wild After Trailer Turns Over

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — Five beef cattle were killed, and a score or more frightened animals led city patrolmen and Liebmann Packing Co. employees a merry round-up chase early Friday morning after a large cattle trailer slipped off the embankment leading to the packing house. The driver of the trailer, Raymond F. Knorr, Neenah, was uninjured.

According to Knorr, the accident occurred about 1:35 a.m. when he was backing his vehicle up to the Liebmann unloading ramp. He said his rig started to slip as he neared the top of the grade and he couldn't make it to the top.

Another rig was following him closely and Knorr stalled his engine. When his brakes failed, he steered toward the edge of the embankment to give the other vehicle room. His rig slid over the side and turned over.

Patrolmen Ray Grimmer and Charles Konowalski, joined by several other officers and packing plant workers, spent several minutes rounding up the released and frightened animals.

Formal Standards?

Solution Expected to County Ambulance Tiff

OSHKOSH — A solution to the Winnebago County Ambulance situation was expected to be reached at a meeting of the sheriff and coroner committee which met today at 11 a.m.

The committee is expected to reach a decision as to whether the county should adopt formal written standards before an ambulance service would be eligible to compete for county emergency calls.

The City of Oshkosh has adopted an ambulance control ordinance which the committee has been studying.

The second issue before the committee is how service would be divided between Moore Ambulance, Inc., which has held an exclusive contract in the past, and Oshkosh Ambulance Co., which has been seeking to share the contract.

Also at stake is the annual $3,000 subsidy which the county has been paying Moore Ambulance for providing 24-hour emergency service. Previous indications by the committee were that the subsidy would be eliminated.

Several alternatives were open to the committee for deciding the basis of service. They were to decide between letting a contract out for bidding, alternating emergency calls between the two services on a weekly basis, as is done by the city, or alternating on an individual call basis.

Attorneys for Oshkosh Ambulance had indicated they might seek court action if the sheriff and coroner committee did not permit them to bid on the county service.

Duane Moore, operator of Moore Ambulance, had earlier charged that county coroner Art C. Miller was connected with Oshkosh Ambulance but Miller has denied this before the committee.

On this date:

In 1546, religious reformer Martin Luther died.

In 1564, Michelangelo Bonarrote, Italian art master, died.

In 1861, Vittorio Emanuele II was proclaimed king of Italy. In 1939, the Golden Gate Exposition in San Francisco was opened.

In 1945, American forces landed on Iwo Jima.

Ten years ago — President Dwight D. Eisenhower decided to cut short a vacation in south Georgia and return to Washington to take personal charge of United States actions in the tense Middle East situation. The crisis at issue was the refusal of Israel to withdraw troops from captured Egyptian territories unless it received United Nations guarantees that there would be no reprisals.

MADISON — Wisconsin's water director said Friday that while industrial plants in the state are making progress in fighting water pollution, he is not satisfied that the firms are working fast enough to abate pollution.

Freeman Holmer, director of the Department of Resource Development, said at a budget hearing of his department that while industry has taken steps which it can point to with pride to fight the spread of dirty water, that the steps can be taken faster than they are presently being pushed by industries involved in the pollution of state waters.

He was supported by Theodore Wisniewski, acting director of the department's water resources division, who said that while all mills in the state are working on plans to end pollution, not all of the firms are actually working toward pollution abatement.

Others Reprocess

Some are not looking to installing modern waste treatment systems, he said, but are, instead, passing their waste products off to other companies to reprocess, or are simply using them as road binding materials as a disposal system. Their comments came at a hearing before the legislative Joint Committee on Finance, considering a budget request from Gov. Warren P. Knowles for $7.3 million for the water resources state planning and miscellaneous duties of the department.

Original department request was for $15.5 million for the 1967-68 biennium, which included the power to bond for $6 million per year for interest payments on local pollution abatement facility construction costs.

Holmer termed Knowles' cuts in the budget as acceptable to the department, and said that the reduction from 40 to 35 new staff positions during the coming two years "is all that we can use wisely." Staffing difficulties due to the scarcity of trained people in the field will make hiring move personnel difficult, Holmer said.

May Hire Later

But he pointed out that if the department can find additional workers to fill the cut positions, it will later request authorization to hire them.

He also said the department staff is considering possible legislation to change the scope of the state's interest - payment plan to one of possibly direct aids to localities of up to 25 percent of construction costs for waste treatment facilities.

Federal regulations may make such a change necessary, he said. Other department personnel have stated in the past that such a change in emphasis could save the state money in a long term sense and result in more actual construction of such local facilities.

The water resources portion of the budget request, which will be reviewed and possibly cut by the finance committee before submission to the Legislature, totals $5.2 million.

Approves Cut

Holmer said he also approved a reduction by Knowles in the budget request of some $10.5 million of the $12 million requested for the state interest payment program, backbone of the state's landmark anti-pollution law passed late in the 1965 session of the Legislature. Localities will not be geared to use the full $12 million during this biennium, he explained, due to the problems of starting such a program. The anti-pollution program has always been seen as one that would start small and increase in size with time, he said.

He estimated that during the 1967-68 biennium the state would Mo., and received his bachelor of divinity degree from Princeton Theological Seminary. He studied at the Auburn Theological Seminary in New York and was awarded a master of theology degree in 1939.

The department is allowed under the statute to spend up to $6 million a year for such purposes, however, and could do so if needed.

Also included in the budget is about $2.1 million for the state planning section of the department, a budget request cut about $200,000 from the agency's request.

K-C Told California Holding Is Violation Of Antitrust Guides

Company Hasn't Seen Order ; No Decision Made to Appeal

NEENAH — Kimberly-Clark Corp. Friday was ordered to divest itself of Blake, Moffitt & Towne Paper Co., San Francisco, in a U. S. District Court ruling which said the merger violated the Clayton Antitrust Act.

When asked if the corporation intends to appeal the order, G. Kenneth Crowell, executive vice president today told The Post-Crescent: "We haven't seen the decision as yet so we have not had a chance to study it with our counsel. Until then, we will not know what action we might take."

Kimberly-Clark, the nation's fourth largest paper manufacturer, acquired the San Francisco-based paper wholesaling firm in 1961 in exchange for $16.1 million worth of stock.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli ruled the merger violated the antitrust law.

'Green Light'
The judge commented that the case—presented by the government in a six-week trial that ended Feb. 10, 1966—"far exceeds the showing that the merger may substantially lessen competition in the distribution and sale of paper products."

"Unless this acquisition is undone, Kimberly-Clark and its competitors will have a green light to proceed with further acquisitions," he said.

Blake, Moffitt & Towne was the leading independent paper wholesaler in the West with 36 warehouses in California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Arizona and New Mexico.

The affair at the Belmont Plaza Hotel, will consist of social hour, dinner, and a business meeting of the institute's alumni association. The annual meeting is during the paper industry's Paper Week in New York which consists of meetings of all of the industry's management, technical, and trade associations.

Board Meeting
The board of trustees of the institute will meet on Saturday at the University Club in New York.

Technical papers from the Institute to be presented before scientific and technical groups are "Components of the Lead Substrate-Insoluble Fraction of Populus Tremuloides Leaves," by H. Kinsley Jr. and I. A. Pearl, "Tearing Resistance by the In-Plane Mode of Tear," by J. A. Van den Akker, W. A. Wink and R. H. Van Eperen, and "Evaluation of Z-Direction Tensile Strength," by W. A. Wink and R. H. Van Eperen.

The new Keyword Supplement to the Institute's Abstract Bulletin, published monthly for use in more than 40 countries, will be the subject of a demonstration and discussion of techniques for use in information retrieval.

County to Consider Offers to Rent Acreage of Defunct Farm

Anyone for 390 acres of Outagamie County farmland?

The Outagamie County Board's public property committee decided Thursday afternoon to take offers on rental of about 390 acres of tillable farmland at the Outagamie County Hospital.

Rental offers will be accepted until the afternoon of March 1. The bids will be opened by the committee March 2. Those interested in renting the land, no longer used after farming operations ended at the county hospital, have the option of bidding on use of the land and buildings together, or separately.

The decision to accept bids came after Stokely Van Camp, Inc., made informal rental offers on just the land and on the land and several buildings.

Property committee members indicated they wanted to take bids on the farmland to avoid "being put on the spot" should other persons who desired use of the land not have a chance.

Appleton Supv. Patrick Mares said "several farmers" have indicated an interest in the land. Fox River Tractor Co. earlier purchased 28.9 acres of the county hospital land.

V. E. Quakenbush, manager for Stokely Van Camp, told the property committee his firm probably would be interested in a three year lease with an option for an additional two years.

Mares, vice chairman of the property committee, said he would like to see Outagamie County get out of the "land rental business" after the county hospital farmland matter is settled.

County Board Chairman Sylvester Esler also urged caution in "moving too fast" on the farmland rental, explaining that it could bring criticism from the public.
